

SUMMER SCHOOL IN BRITISH AND ANGLO-AMERICAN CULTURAL STUDIES “SERGIO GUERRA”

“Work, Migration and Identity in Contemporary Anglophone Narratives. Multimedia and Linguistic Practices”.

The study programme of the Summer school in Cultural Studies focuses on the representation and narration of questions related to work, identity of class and gender within the migrant condition in the different linguistic and cultural Anglophone areas.

Specific reference will be made to the New Englishes spoken in the former colonies of the British Empire, as well as to the context of Black Britain, within literature, journalism, art and cinema. The Summer School aims at offering the students the linguistic and cultural tools needed to analyze texts and multimedia material that reflect the relationship work/identity in the different realities of the Anglophone world (USA, UK, India, Canada, Caribbean and Asia Pacific).

Participants will acquire the following skills: building and managing the vocabulary and the registers specific to the disciplines, recognizing languages and forms of alterity, analyzing texts and situations from an intercultural and postcolonial point of view.

14-16 JULY 2025 University of Urbino Carlo Bo

14 July, 14.00-18.00, CLA - Aula Proiezioni, Via Budassi, 28

14.00-14.45 Federica Zullo (Univ. Urbino), Course presentation and introduction to the themes of the Summer School

14.45-16.00, Francesco Cattani (Univ. Bologna), "An Intersectional Approach to the Diaspora Space of Black Britain"

16.00-16.15 Coffee Break

16.15-18.00 Dominic Holdaway (Univ. Urbino), “Work, Migration and Identity in Anglophone Cinema”

15 July, 9.30-12.45, CLA - Aula Proiezioni, Via Budassi, 28

9:30-11:00, Lorena Carbonara (Univ. Calabria), “Writing as Liberation in an Intersectional Perspective in the U.S.”

11.00-11.15 Coffee Break

11.15-12.45, Federica Zullo (Univ. Urbino), “The Cost of Living: Caribbean Women’s Writing and the Language of Upward Mobility”

15 July, 14.30 – 18.00, CLA - Aula Proiezioni, Via Budassi, 28

14.30-16.00, Paola Della Valle (Univ. Torino), “Migration, Gender and Asia-Pacific Narratives”

16.00-16.15 Coffee Break

16.15-17.45, Esterino Adami (Univ. Torino), "'We are what we do': Identity, Work and Language in Indian Literary Texts"

16 July: 9.30-14.00, CLA - Aula Proiezioni, Via Budassi, 28

9.30-10.30, Esterino Adami (Univ. Torino), Workshop "Working with Postcolonial Stylistics"

10.30-10.45, Coffee Break

10.45-12.00, Tiziana Migliore (Univ. Urbino) "Semiotic Representations of Work and Migration"

12.00-12.30, Federica Zullo, Concluding remarks

13.00-14.00: Final exam